First Spring Crop Now Planted; Agricultural Advisory Board Named

With the initial planting of the onion crop yesterday, the Center's agricultural production program geared itself for the first farming season in Arkansas.

To date approximately 125 acres have been ploughed. This will be used to grow onions, potatoes, peas, cabbage, spinach and daikon--crops that require immediate attention.

The major crop will be soy beans, corn and sweet potatoes. In all, approximately 35 different vegetables and molons are scheduled for planting before the season is over. Seeds for the farm program will also be grown. Location for seed beds are now being studied.

WATER STILL CONTAMINATED

Pending the report from the State Board of Health on the water samples taken from this Center, residents have been cautioned to drink boiled water only, by L.A. May, Project steward.

Warning is repeated constantly as numerous diarrhoea cases have been reported and complaints that some messes are neglecting to boil water have been received by the mess division.

At present the plans call for enough production to meet the immediate needs of the Center only. Later this may be broadened to include other relocation centers.

Thursday at a general meeting of the agricultural group Jensei Kanegaye was elected general supervisor; Frank Nishikawa and Gunji Asawa, assistant supervisors of gardening; Jack Y. Matsumoto and Charles Takeuchi, assistant supervisors of equipment.

The following persons were chosen for the advisory board: Sonejiro Mogi, Wataru Dobashi, Kichinosuke Ikezoe, Shonosuke Matsuno, Hanji Inouye, Sakujiro Watanabe, Jitsuro Hiramoto and Shokichi Ishimaru.

The residents of the Center were urged to bring any Tokinashi daikon and gobo seeds they could spare to Kanegaye, 40-9-C.

The following questions and answers were taken from a bulletin released by Sears, Roebuck and Co.:

Q. Am I allowed to tear WR stamp No. 17 out of WR book No. 1? A. Yes. Send in stamp No. 17 only, not the whole book. Even though the WR book states, "void if detached," under the shoe rationing order, the Blue and white have been chosen as Rohwer high school colors, according to William Beasley, principal.

Comments have been favorable.

The Springfield (Mass.) Republican after tracing the circumstances leading up to evacuation, states that "the organization of such a (combat) unit for military service would surely create a good impression among the mass of Americans."

The Minneapolis Morning Tribune refers to the War Department's action as "wisely undertaken," and observes that "For the loyal citizens in those (relocation) camps, there should be freedom to participate in the war effort, either on the home front or in our armed forces."

Several other papers, it was observed, also made reference to the increasing opportunities for employment of evacuees in private industry, particularly war industries, as a solution for problems growing out of evacuation.

KEEPING POSTED

With F.K.O.

Snowed under last Sunday, the National league cage race is expected to get rolling on all four wheels today at the high school field.

The Royal Dukes, A-Jays, Gaels, Vandals, Cardinals and the Block 12 Smiths, who have replaced the Island Wharfrats, will receive their initial taste of loop competition this afternoon.

Gunning for their second straight win today will be the YBA tournament champion Lodi Golden Avalanches, who dumped the Bojangles in the opener, and Block 28 Green Horns, who eked out a closie over the Hawthorne quintet in an overtime.

Another relocation center quintet will get a taste of "across the fence" basketball competition. The lucky team is the Heart Mountain All-Stars, who were scheduled to tangle with the neighboring Lovell Westwood Indians last week at the Lovell high school court in a goodwill game.

Among the well-known nisei hoop stars covorting for the Wyoming center's all-stars are Tosh Shiozaki, San Francisco YMCA Greyhounds' JAU all-star; Palo Alto Hinodes' JAU all-star Taro Yamamura and Tashuku Yamada; Southern California JAU scoring ace Babe Nomura of the Hollywood Huskies; Wally Funabiki, former Stanford frosh and Mountain View Kyowas' eager; and Los Angeles Golden Bears' Tak Itami.

SPORTING AROUND.....
Johnny Hiramoto, one of the greatest defensive third basemen to come out of northern California's nisei balldom, left Thursday for Chicago to enroll at Illinois Tech. He performed at the hot corner for the state champion Lodi YMCA Templars and resided at Block 25.... Among the many "Van Dyke" distributors is football star Kikuo Bruno Kitagawa, who is a proud father of a future All-American, Kiyoshi Kelly.

AVALANCHES PLAY Y'S DUKES MEET VANDALS

GALES BATTLE CARDINALS

National league hoopsters dominate today's cage program, at 3:30 p.m. as the Vandals try to humble the Royal Dukes and the Gaels engage the Stockton

Cards on courts 1 and 2, respectively.

All competing fives are playing their first league tilts and undoubtedly will be out to chalk up a victory in their openers.

The Vandals' and Royal Dukes' fray was scheduled for last Sunday, but was postponed until this afternoon because of bad playing conditions caused by the snow.

When the Gaels and Cards enter the court, the two Stockton quintets will recreate a rivalry which existed outside of the Center. Evenly matched, the contest will be a toss-up with both teams performing their best in an attempt to vanquish their adversary.

A-JAYS FACE GREEN HORN

By Cho Aratani

In the second round of the current National league race, the potent A-Jays are favored over the Green Horns, and the Lodi Golden Avalanches should easily take the measure of the punchless Hawthorne Y Jrs. in the opening pair of 2 o'clock games today.

At 4:30 the strong Bojangles will meet the Smiths, a newcomer to the league.

Raring to go places in their first league encounter, the A-Jays are expected to pile up points against the Green Horns from Block 28. Notwithstanding their one-win, no-loss league record, the 4-2 victory chalked up by the Green Horns against Hawthorne last week puts them in the underdog spot.

The Golden Avalanches from Lodi should have an easy time with the Hawthorne Jrs. The surprising Lodi cagers staged a mild upset over the Bojangles last week and should repeat today.

Still considered as a threat despite their one loss, the Bojangles should come back strongly today and hand the unknown Smiths a drubbing.

JUDOIST HONORED

Shoved indoors due to inclement weather, the judo exhibition honoring fourth rank Masao Yoshimura, nevertheless, proved successful at PS hall 34, Sunday, before a large crowd.

Chairmen for the exhibition were Izumi and Dr. Onizuka.

The following Center judoists participated: T. Kambara, D. Murakami, R. Yamanaka, H. Masamoto, K.

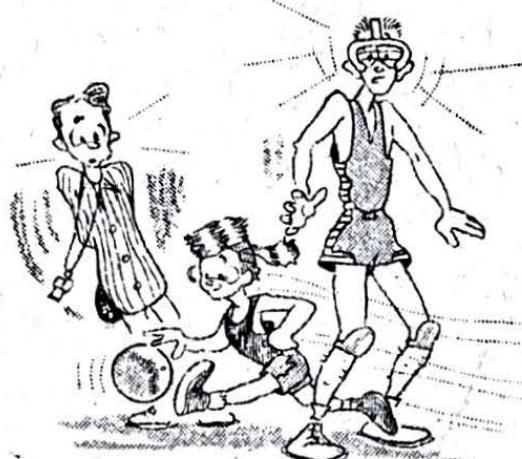

Nomura, K. Onizuka, H. Wakai, K. Murakami, Y. Ando, Narasaki, M. Yasuda, R. Mayeda, G. Kitakata, T. Matsumura, J. Tamura, D. Tomoto, B. Shibuya, Y. Matsumoto, T. Ando, A. Yada, K. Yamanaka, G. EDITORIAL
OUR ACT

It was Shakespeare who said that the world is but a stage and we are but actors who stroll across this stage of life amid joy and sorrow. The dramatic heart-breaks, the cheerful episodes of the past and the future are the realities that we feel.

Today, that theatre of life is filled with clangling echoes of a world at war. In the chaotic confusion, many have died and many more will play their last acts on earth. And many will suffer and numerous will be the calls for salvation as the play runs on to another anti-climax.

We have not been left out of that great drama though the bit that we have played has gone unnoticed. But the contrast between our former lives and now is very great, and we have not been impervious to darts of ignorance and prejudice.

There may be significance in Ralph W. Sockman's idea, "Each of us needs a philosophy of life adequate to furnish a pattern for a world that is now jumbled like the pieces of a jigsaw puzzle. While none of us knows where she will be tomorrow, every one of us over twelve years of age should know what kind of person she desires to be tomorrow, and twenty years from now. However, the war has upset things, it has not changed the goals of the good life. Let us look for clues to life's larger meaning."

Perhaps there is more truth than rationalization in Sockman's words, "Quiet fortitude which can keep back the tears is worth as much as brilliant daring which brings the cheers."
